such factors may have a bigger impact on black children than traffic-related air pollution does, newman suggested.